Issue 3
30th September 2024

On Friday, our community came together to celebrate the memory of Lesley Ames through a day of creative activities, finishing with a dance in the hall which I am sure Lesley would have approved of. We also held a Macmillan coffee morning and cake sale, and your generous contributions were much appreciated.

Friday was also National Teaching Assistant Day, and I would like to say a huge thank you to our exceptional Teaching Assistants who are instrumental in nurturing the children's growth and well-being.

Many of you will know our school dog Chrissie. She has not been in school for a little while as she needed some unexpected help from the vet. She is doing well and needs to rest for a week or so. We will be organising fundraising events to cover the unforeseen costs, recognising how important she is in supporting the children and helping them with their worries.

As we navigate the unpredictable autumn weather, please ensure your child brings a waterproof coat to school. Our aim is to provide outdoor playtime regardless of the elements, developing resilience and enjoyment in all conditions.

Finally, I am delighted to announce the reopening of our after-school care programme, BASH, commencing Monday, 30th September. Many families are eligible for support with the cost of this: please visit <https://www.gov.uk/tax-free-childcare> or enquire at the school office for more information.

Thank you to all the parents and volunteers who came on Friday to support the Macmillan Cancer fundraiser. The impressive decorations at the front of the school was made by Ledina. She did a great job with the balloons. We used a QR code for the first time so we are not sure how much in total has been raised yet.

Tesco, in partnership with Groundwork give small grants to schools. We currently have two applications, in Ashford, Surrey and Sunbury on Thames. If you visit either of those stores, please use the blue coins to vote for us. The two projects are for Gardening and Sensory equipment.

Susi, from the Chiswick Young People's Poetry Competition, visited us on Wednesday. She was one of the four judges who decided on Delvin's first prize. Susi read Delvin's poem and told us how every single judge had independently decided it deserved first place. She also reminded us that poetry is less of a loaf of a bread, full of measured out ingredients, but more of an apple that a writer has to grow. Susi helped us launch the search for three new Autumn Poet Laureates. This is open to Years 3-6. The theme is Fire and the deadline is 7th October. Prizes for winners and runners up!

Here is Nimra reading out her poem that she sent to the competition.
